

Taking Your Comedy Career to the Next Level!

with Instructor Jeff Singer

STEP UP YOUR STAND UP

Comedy Seminars and Workshops

Taught by Comedy Producer Jeff Singer, Executive Talent Scout with the Montreal and Chicago Just For Laughs Comedy Festivals.

This is a rare opportunity to take a seminar and/or workshop with a highly accomplished and influential comedy industry player. Jeff Singer is an L.A.-based veteran producer and talent scout who has worked on shows such as Comedy Central's "Tough Crowd with Colin Quinn", Nick at Nite's "Funniest Mom in America" and FOX-TV's "Talkshow with Spike Feresten". Jeff has worked with and produced numerous comedy events with stars including: Robert Smigel (Triumph the Insult Comic Dog), Bob Odenkirk, Jeffrey Ross, Sarah Silverman, Nick Swardson, Jim Norton, Patton Oswalt, Craig Robinson, Demetri Martin, Mary Lynn Rajskub, Bill Burr, and Ed Helms among many others.

Seminars

Jeff will cover the ins and outs of the stand up comedy business, review tools to help you advance your career such as marketing, networking, protocol, due diligence, finding and creating opportunities, including a summary of all the major players in the business - talent executives, comedy Festivals, record labels, websites, etc., all backed up with anecdotes and examples. Plus all the skill sets that bookers, agents, managers, club owners, casting directors and judges look for in a comedian. This is a 3-hour speaking lecture only with Q&A. Open to everyone.

Workshops

Here you will perform live, then receive critiques and feedback within a candid but highly supportive environment. Jeff will help you discover ways to find your own voice and point of view so that you can separate yourself from the pack and stand out as a unique performer in a crowded landscape. You will also learn from each other in this intimate and interactive setting. Class sizes are kept small so that each person receives adequate time for individual feedback and to absorb and study fellow students' sessions for further helpful pointers. Think of it similar to sports teams watching tapes of their opponents. You can learn as much from watching others as a barometer for your own success. Prior performing experience required. Workshops sessions are usually a half-day.

Why are these classes different from others out there?

For starters, Jeff is not a stand-up comic. He comes from the other side of the business, having worked as an agent, manager, talent scout and writer/producer of live shows, radio and television. His advice and assessment is based upon his vast experience in the industry and a keen understanding of how his peers think.

For locations, dates, testimonials, pricing, registration and more information on Jeff and the classes:

GO TO StepUpYourStandUp.com

Have questions or want to bring Step Up Your Stand Up to your city?

Ask Jeff at stepupyourstandup@gmail.com

DISCLAIMER: This is not a job interview or audition. The presence of Mr. Singer is neither a guarantee nor a promise of employment nor any consideration thereof. Conversely participation will not exclude you from consideration of any future projects Mr. Singer may be involved in. The intent of these classes is solely for educational purposes.